

M STUDIO

Dance Communication Lab

15 - 17 MARCH 2025, Sfântu Gheorghe, Romania

DCL – Dance Communication Lab – is a space for the exchange of experiences between those who participate. The main purpose of the meeting is for six dancing people to get to know each other through improvisation which is the most expressive and characteristic creative process in contemporary dance.

The DCL assumes a democratisation of the creative process, collaboration on equal terms of all the people taking part in this meeting. The DCL organised in Sfântu Gheorghe envisages inviting a local artist representing a different field of art to collaborate. The process will be open to dialoguing between genres, languages and creative tools.

The DCL will be led by Romanian dancer and choreographer Andrea Gavrilu.

The DCL will conclude with a public showing on the 17th of March.

The project is carried out within the framework of Beyond Front@: Bridging Periphery - a Creative Europe project (2023-2026) created by Central Europe Dance Theatre – CEDT (Hungary), Bunker (Slovenia), Hrvatski institut za pokret i ples - HIPP (Croatia), Krakow Dance Theatre (Poland), M Studio (Romania) and Vitlycke – CPA (Sweden) to foster local development of the contemporary dance fields.

The main purpose of the Dance Communication Lab is to facilitate networking between dance artists from different countries and provide them with relevant experience that will help them develop their careers in the international dance scene.

Who is the DCL for?

The DCL is aimed at dance professionals, people who dance, choreograph and practise movement activities. The workshop will be a creative meeting of independent artists who will share their experience, ways of acting and creative tools.

We invite people from Poland, Hungary, Slovenia, Croatia, Romania and Sweden to apply.
